The Fund's investments in other private investment funds can result in investors indirectly bearing a proportionate share of the fees and expenses charged by those underlying funds in addition to the Fund's own fees and expenses.

The past performance of the Fund is provided for illustrative purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the Fund's future results. There is no assurance that the Fund's investment objectives will be attained, that the value of the investments will not decline or that there will be any return of capital.

Alpha refers to excess returns earned on an investment above the benchmark return when adjusted for risk. A "lock-up period" is a predetermined time frame during which investors are restricted from selling their shares. The net asset value (NAV) is the value of an entity's assets less the value of its liabilities. Correlation for a private fund measures how its returns move relative to public markets or other assets, scored from -1 to +1. The direction in which they move can be either positive (the same direction) or negative (the opposite direction).

Alpha and Correlation statistics are presented for informational purposes only. They should not be viewed as a guarantee of future investment performance or future correlation.
